

Rev Up FEVS

INSTRUCTOR-LED COURSE

The Rev Up FEVS course for managers incorporates findings from Gallup's extensive, ongoing research into how managers and teams in the federal government build and maintain high levels of engagement. The course provides managers with insights into how they can increase productivity and success by working with a focus on engagement.

Who Should Attend

This program is for managers and supervisors who manage or oversee a team's performance.

What You Can Expect

The Rev Up FEVS course for managers provides managers with insights and tools they can use to create an environment in which their team members thrive and engagement is high. During this course, participants will gain:

- empowerment to take ownership of their team's engagement
- an understanding of the factors that influence engagement and how to interpret their FEVS results
- specific actions they and their team members can take to enhance the team's engagement

Program Format

Half-day course

Prerequisites

None

Course Overview

Understanding Engagement

- Why Engagement Matters
- Engagement Is a Leading Indicator of Performance Outcomes
- An Introduction to FEVS

Measuring Engagement

- Using the FEVS Engagement Hierarchy as a Framework for Developing Engaged Teams
- Exploring the FEVS Engagement Survey Questions
- An Introduction to Action Planning

Courses are conducted at Gallup locations worldwide. Gallup can also deliver this course at your location for groups of 15 or more. Visit <http://courses.gallup.com> for upcoming dates, locations and tuition information, or contact inquiries@gallup.com for additional information.